

'round town

with Betty Allen...

Your "Round The Town" reporter, not having anything to do with the statements, allegations, insinuations or remarks herein contained, wants to go on record to the effect that all and sundry are the efforts of amateurs, that she accepts no responsibility, and that any opinions expressed are not necessarily those of said reporter.

Wonder if Betty went to Santa Cruz because she is particularly fond of clams? Recently in her column she commented about Pismo clams and then went to say that a certain tennis match was a clam-bang affair.

And speaking about the tennis tournament, here are a few side-lights. A lot of oldsters were good sports and signed up, but only one showed good judgment—Judge Blaine—he quit after the first set. Jack Murdock plays tennis just like some other game I could mention—he always has a few aces in the hole. Just before his semi-final match Bob Magnuson refused meat for dinner—said he was going to get his fill of fish a little later.

Seriously, the tournament was a fine thing and created a lot of interest and good fun. All of the contestants were a grand bunch of sports and really had a swell time.

Understand there is a slight difficulty about one phase of incorporation—Los Angeles is complaining that the territory being taken in comes too close to their city limits.

I don't know why all this fuss over a proposed foot-race between Gene Hodges and Jack Murdock. All one has to do is to look down Campbell Ave. any afternoon and see Les Wheeler and his daughter Donita racing down the street. Funny part of it is, that pop can beat his daughter every time.

Ruth Cousins' fame as a singer is spreading. A week from next Sunday she has three separate engagements in San Jose, all at different occasions. Church soloist in the morning and two weddings in the afternoon.

How come Betty Allen was willing to pay a fine at the local Kiwanis ladies' night meeting rather than admit that the reason her husband did not accompany her to the meeting was that he split his upper plate on a juicy steak sandwich given him by one of his local feminine admirers that same morning.

Did you ever see anyone more disgusted than fishermen returning empty-handed while all his pals have ample catches of beautiful trout? ... The hum of aquaplanes has been added to the hum of motor boats on the lakes. ... You need not want for anything in the mountains from a refrigerator to a powder-puff. Commercial development around Tahoe is approaching cosmopolitan proportions. ... If you like to watch the antics of chipmunks and squirrels, just put plenty of peanut-butter around where they can reach it. ... With all the glamorous bathing clothes available now, people returning from a swim still look like refugees on the march.

AMERICAN LEGION OPENS OFFICE

Campbell Post of the American Legion has obtained the use of the Sunday School building in the rear of the Methodist Church, where they will open an office to assist veterans in securing their Terminal Leave Pay. Members of the post will be in the office Monday through Friday from 7 to 9 p. m. Veterans may obtain proper forms for applying for Terminal Leave Pay at the Post Office.

Every week a name will be drawn from our list of new subscribers and printed in the classified ad column. The person whose name appears there may receive two free passes to the Campbell Theater by calling at the Press Office. Look and see if your name is there!

Sunny-Mount Theaters Celebrate Fifth Anniversary

Starting Sunday, a gala week at the Campbell Theater will celebrate the fifth anniversary of its association with the Sunny-Mount Theaters. In honor of the event varied gifts will be given to patrons as well as many free admissions.

Sunday afternoon the first 300 women attending after the theater opens at 2 p. m. will receive free gardenias. On Monday anyone 65 years of age or older will be admitted free, plus tax.

Volunteer firemen and their families will be given free admission (plus tax) on Tuesday. Firemen must show their badges to the cashier.

Wednesday is "lucky seat" night—six pairs of nylons will be given to those who have chosen "lucky seats" on entering the theater.

Free dishes will be given to every woman attending on Thursday evening, and on Friday Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts in uniform will be admitted free (plus tax).

To climax the week's celebration a free kiddie show will be given on Saturday, Sept. 7, at 10 a. m. All children will be admitted free with no tax. The program will feature humorous cartoons.

Manager Vern Falcon reports that the program of the week includes many top-ranking favorites such as "White Stop", "Because of Him", "Cluny Brown", "Song of Old Wyoming", "So Goes My Love", "Johnny Comes Flying Home", and "Confidential Agent", which stars the Charles Boyer and Lauren Bacall combination.

The Sunny Mount Theater Company now owns theaters in Sunnyvale, Mountain View and Los Gatos, as well as in Campbell.

Campbell Pioneer Passes Away

Funeral services were conducted today in the Rutherford Funeral Home chapel for Mrs. Theresa Whipple who died after an extended illness at her Campbell home on N. Union Ave. last Monday. Mrs. Whipple was one of Campbell's oldest residents, coming here from Dodge County, Wisconsin, in 1893. Mr. W. R. Coupland, chaplain of the Morning-light Lodge, I. O. O. F., and a close friend of the family, will conduct the services.

She is survived by her husband, George Whipple.

QUARTET WILL SING AT METHODIST CHURCH

A quartet will be featured in the special music at the Methodist church next Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock service. The quartet will be composed of Mrs. Frank Blaine, Mr. and Mrs. John Stoner, and Lawrence J. Osborne. They will sing, "Jesus, Word of God Incarnate" by Chas. Gounod.

The pastor of the church will speak on the subject "A Christian Labor Day Message".

The finance committee of the church will meet at 4 p. m., and will be followed by the monthly meeting of the official board.

CAMPBELL HIGH PTA OUTLINES PROGRAM

At an evening session held Aug. 21, at the home of Mrs. Alfred Wetz, the Campbell High PTA program for the ensuing year was tentatively outlined for the board's approval by a committee consisting of Mrs. Alfred Wetz, program chairman; Mrs. Raymond Flagg, president, and Mrs. Clarence Fagalde, publicity.

The theme for the year's program will be "understanding—Together We Build", adopted from the PTA State program as published in the June issue of the Parent-Teacher Magazine.

Sanitary District Election Sept. 16

Monday, Sept. 16, voters of Campbell will elect two members for the board of directors and an assessor for the Campbell Sanitary District. Only those voters residing in the district may vote. The terms of H. M. Shadle and Ethan Lanphear as directors will expire, as will that of Guy Farley as assessor. All three incumbents have filed for re-election, and a light turn-out is expected, since everyone seems satisfied that the present board is doing a good job. Other members are Charles De Selle, president; Ross Trowbridge, secretary; and Walter H. Stray.

The polls will be located at Guy Farley's office, 2 Campbell Ave., and will be open from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m. Elections officials will be Frances Cousins, judge; Lillie Frazier, and William Wolfe, inspectors.

Contracts were let to the A. J. Peters Construction Company of San Jose for the laying of three additional sewer mains to take care of the growth of Campbell. These mains will be located on West Campbell Ave., west of Carlyn; Esther Ave. extension, south to Latimer Ave., and a new street to be known as Hawthorne Way, running west off Poplar St.

GARCIAS HAVE NEW EMPLOYEES

New employees at Garcia's are Mrs. Beatrice Rodgers, bookkeeper, who has been employed at Hendy's for the past four years; and Charles G. Anderson, plumber from Washington, who hopes to settle in Campbell with his family.

Capable Teachers To Join Staff at Campbell High

With the opening of the Fall term Campbell High School will welcome three new teachers and one teacher who is returning after an absence of two years. Miss Kathleen Bull, who has served as head of the commercial department at Madera High School, will teach office machines, shorthand and one class of typing. Miss Bull has been in charge of a Girl Scout camp at Pinecrest this summer. She and her mother hope to make their home in Campbell.

Mr. Robert Robinson, who had teaching experience in Redwood City High School, and San Mateo Junior College, and who served as Recreational Director for San Francisco before the war, will teach orientation and world history, and will coach basketball. During the war, Mr. Robinson served as a lieutenant commander. He played on the Del Monte Pre-Flight championship football team, and later had charge of the recreational program on Guam.

Mr. George Egling has had teaching experience at San Jose High School. He served as a lieutenant in the Air Corps during the war and had photography experience in the South Pacific. He will teach mathematics, one class in life science and one class of physical education.

Miss Barbara Davis is returning to the staff after spending two years in the Wacs. She will teach French and English.

"The Cats" Pageant To Be Presented at Los Gatos

Hilda Correia, as Rita, Mexican singer in "The Cats".

Kits, cats, pussies, and tabbies, cats of fairy tale, legend and history, will come alive on the stage of the Los Gatos Bowl when "The Cats", original fantasy by Dean Jennings will have its premiere performances on the evenings of Sept. 13, 14, and 15.

The cats are such amiable characters as Krazy Kat, the Cheshire Cat, the Cat With Nine Lives, and cats of all kinds of strange and grotesque history.

Costuming for the pageant is a mixture of the humorous and the beautiful, for fluorescent light is being used to achieve stage effects which are brilliant and glowing.

There will be a musical background for the play of more than forty numbers. A chorus of 80 and an orchestra of 35 will combine in massed musical numbers.

Evelyn Noga, soprano, will have solo roles in several episodes of the play. The direction of the music is under the baton of James Lightner.

Special events will precede the Los Gatos pageant; there will be a children's pet parade, a cat show and other community activities.

"The Cats" will utilize all the various levels of the big outdoor theater and a waterfall will pour down the center of the big stage for special scenic and lighting effects.

Sept. 13, 14, and 15, are the evenings of the pageant. "The Cats" is its name. Los Gatos is the place. The Bowl is the setting. Tickets are on sale at Town Hall in Los Gatos, and at the Campbell Water Co., 26 Campbell Ave.

Campbell Tennis Tournament

Last Sunday evening, before a good sized crowd of fans, Bob Magnuson staged a remarkable comeback to win the first annual Campbell tennis tournament, winning the singles title from his very formidable opponent, George Phillips of Willow Glen. Behind by a score of two games to five in the first set, Bob captured the next seven games in a row to run out the first set and two games into the second set. The final score was 7-5, 6-3. Victory was accomplished through Bob's ability to make remarkable retrievers of many of Phillips' very fine placements, and the victory was well earned.

Immediately following the finals, Dean Close, recreational director of the Campbell Youth Center, under whose sponsorship the tournament was held, awarded the several prizes donated by local merchants, to the winners and runners-up in the four divisions. The champions in each of the four divisions are: Men's singles, Bob Magnuson; men's doubles, Harold Drummond and Jack Murdock; women's singles, Mrs. Helen Powell; mixed doubles, Mr. and Mrs. William Powell.

Semi-final and final matches were announced over the public address system in a very creditable manner by Carl Field, who, after the presentation of the awards, treated the fans and participants to a watermelon feed at the courts. About 50 people enjoyed the feast.

The sportsmanship displayed throughout the entire tournament was excellent, and the fans and participants alike agreed that it should be maintained as an annual event. Those merchants who donated prizes were acknowledged and thanked by Mr. Close. A list of the donors are Carl Field, Dan Clark, Lowell Benson, Campbell Pharmacy, Taste Good Bakery, Portola Cleaners, Nelson Grain, Blue Bell Cafe, McCoy's Service Station, Decker's Market, Campbell Hardware, Campbell Market and Rhea's Golden Rule Store.

Couple Feted On Anniversary

In celebration of their 50th wedding anniversary Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Lee were honored Sunday, Aug. 25, by members of their family and friends at the Winchester Road home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Rich. About 75 guests were present among whom were Mrs. Lee's brother, Mr. Garfield Anderson from Idaho, and Mr. and Mrs. Byron Green from Seattle. Mrs. Green is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee.

Mr. Jack Brown from the San Jose Light Opera company, accompanied by Mrs. Dorothy McGinty, entertained the group by singing. A golden wedding ring was presented to Mrs. Lee by her husband in memory of 50 years of married life. The refreshment table with the traditional wedding cake was attractively arranged.

APPLEGARTHS RETURN

The Les Applegarths returned from a camping trip up Mt. Hamilton way with big results—Les got a three-pronged deer, Mrs. A. came home with a belt made of a 13-button rattlesnake she killed herself by throwing rocks, the boys caught a small grey fox and a fish.

MRS. GIBSON BACK AT CLARK'S

Mrs. Louise Gibson recently had her appendix removed. Friends will be glad to see her back on the job at Clark's.

JACKSONS HAVE GUEST

Last week Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Jackson, 203 No. Winchester, had as their guest Mrs. Vera Wilson from Los Angeles, who was returning from a business trip in Seattle.

Hearing Set For Industrial Zoning

Those "for and agin" industrial zoning will have a chance to air their views at the first hearing set by the County Planning Commission for next Wednesday, Sept. 4, at 2:30 p. m., in the Supervisors' chambers at the Court House.

There was a large turnout at the County Court House on July 17 as the result of a news story resulting from a legal notice sent to The Press by the Planning Commission secretary. At first the erroneous notice of hearing was blamed by the secretary on the newspaper, but he later stated in a letter to The Press that the error had originated in his office. The legal notice published in last week's Press is correct, according to the office of the Planning Commission.

The proposed zoning, endorsed by the Campbell Chamber of Commerce and the Campbell Taxpayers' Association, would permit the operation of light industry along the railroad track from Hamilton Ave. to Pollard Road. Chief objections to the plan, recommended by the Supervisors, are home owners in the vicinity of the suggested industrial zone.

Among those questioned on the matter by a Press reporter were: John Lynden, retired wholesale grocer: "I am in favor of industrial zoning; people have to make a living and unless we give them something to work at they can't do it."

Garland Spears, co-owner of the Campbell Taxi Co.: "We need industrial zoning so that the town can progress. I'd like to see the ex-service men have a chance to make a living."

Mrs. H. F. Cousins, president Country Women's Club: "The present trend toward decentralization of industry would certainly benefit Campbell."

Walter Silberbauer, president Chamber of Commerce: "Whether we incorporate or not, we need something to offer steady employment and need a steady population instead of a transient one. I believe industrial zoning is a necessity."

Herbert Shadle, retired druggist and member County Planning Commission: "I would like to see the boundaries of the proposed industrial zone shortened, but Henry Ford certainly had the right idea when he put his factories out in the country. With industry we could offer employment to the ranchers during their slack season and improve our town by furnishing the hitherto seasonal workers steady pay. It would bring added prosperity to the merchants, but some of them have their noses buried so deep in their ledgers they don't look up and when they do they can't see the forest for the trees."

EDITORIAL

We were impressed with the attitude of a woman living near the railroad in the proposed industrial zoning district. Many of her neighbors are opposing this move on the grounds that it is unnecessary and would spoil the enjoyment of their homes.

It is easy to sympathize with these home owners who have made the mistake of building or buying near a railroad track, always a symbol of industry, but we admire this woman who is meeting the changing trends of the community with equanimity.

She feels that she is not unfavorably affected financially for the value of her property will no doubt be increased in the event of industrial zoning. While her home is the result of a lifetime of work and there is the deep sentiment for it which every woman has, she feels that change is inevitable and does not want to stand in the way of progress by objecting to this step.

Faith! And 'twas a cauld mornning when we passed by.
Begorra! No Betty Allen to greet the eye.

A familiar figure, that she is
A sittin' with pencil and phone to her ear
A gettin' some news with which us to cheer.
Her friendly smile as she looks out the Press window
Gives warmth to the hearts of all passers by, so—
Though we shall miss her very much,
We can but say, pleasant vacation and all such.
'Tis hoped that her week at the seashore will rest her,
And that by now all the good fairies have blessed her.
So that when she returns she'll have oodles of pep
To gather much news with which to keep us all hep.

Brrr! 'Twas a cauld mornning when we passed by,
Begorra! No smilin' Betty to greet the eye.

SIDES FOR NEXT WAR

PARIS—Perhaps it has ceased to be news but, even so, it can't be emphasized too often that this so-called peace conference is actually a choosing up of sides for another war unless something vital and electrifying in the way of diplomacy steps in to prevent it.

Events are moving with terrific speed while this conference moves with humdrum slowness. In the Russian zone of Germany, 12 factories are pouring out munitions for the Red army. In Czechoslovakia, the sum of 400 million dollars has been appropriated for munitions—all of a standard type, interchangeable with either the Czech or the Red army. Yugoslavia and Poland also are pouring out standardized Russian arms.

Meanwhile this peace conference talks sonorously, piously of procedure and precedents. Meanwhile, also, the sides are chosen—the line-up, unless heroic measures head it off—for the next war.

The line-up of Russian satellites never varies. In all the conference voting, from San Francisco through the United Nations assembly in New York to Paris, Russia's stooges only once voted against their masters in the Kremlin. That was when Byelorussia got its signals crossed. Russia can be absolutely sure of the following votes on every rollcall, come hell or high water: Byelorussia, the Ukraine, Poland, Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia.

The line-up on the other side varies. It is significant that the British dominions frequently desert England. This proves there's real democracy in the British empire. Australia and New Zealand vote more than half the time against England; Canada about 50-50. South Africa and India frequently are aligned with England, although not always.

The most forthright leaders of the anti-Soviet bloc are Australia, the Netherlands, Brazil and Belgium.

Note—Most pathetic satellite in the Soviet line-up is Jan Masaryk of Czechoslovakia, now nicknamed "The Prisoner of Zenda." Son of old President Thomas Masaryk, who founded the Czechoslovak republic in Pittsburgh in 1918 under the godfatherhood of Woodrow Wilson, Jan Masaryk's sympathies are all with the United States and Britain. But with his country solidly surrounded by Russia, he votes consistently with the Russian bloc.

ACCUSED OF SNOOPING

It isn't being advertised, but Lt. Gen. Sir John Harding, commander of Allied forces in Venezia Giulia, has sent a hot cable to the White House and the British foreign office against dynamic ex-Mayor La Guardia of New York, accusing the fiery Fiorello of snooping in Trieste. General Harding demanded that the White House and the British crack down on La Guardia and prevent him from slandering American and British troops in Trieste. In fact, General Harding even threatened his resignation unless he got full support. As a result the British, which have some jurisdiction over La Guardia because UNRRA is international, sent New York's former mayor an appeal to pipe down.

Apparently it did no good, however. It was after receiving the London appeal that Fiorello boasted that 25 good New York cops could clean up the thieving in Trieste. La Guardia previously had demanded Anglo-American troops in Trieste prevent the wholesale disappearance of UNRRA supplies.

Note—During the war, F. D. R. promised La Guardia a commission as brigadier general and the job of helping to govern Italy, but the army brass hats blocked it. Apparently they figured they could never handle the ferocious Little Flower. British generals now think their American colleagues were right.

Traveling with children?

Next time, try the train

The train offers a great many advantages to parents traveling with children:

1 Safety. Statistics prove that you and your children are safer on the train than in your own home. That's pretty hard to beat.

2 Low cost. Children under 5 ride FREE when accompanied by an adult, children from 5 to and including 11, half fare.

3 Pullman berths cost the same whether used by one or two people. Thus a mother with a child can "double up" with the child in a berth for no additional Pullman fare.

4 Children get seats in chair cars and coaches just like adults, even though they ride free or for half fare.

5 Southern Pacific dining cars offer a wide variety of food for children as well as adults. A special children's menu offers meals at less than adult cost. Ingredients and facilities are provided for the preparation of formulas and special diets.

6 On the train, children have plenty of room to move around. They aren't "cooped up" as in so many other forms of transportation. And they will get a friendly reception from our trainmen, most of whom have children of their own.

7 Traveling on the train is highly educational for children. They see their country intimately, at ground level.

8 Children love to ride on a train. Remember when you were a child—what fun it was to take a train trip?

Alice Enderton Writes from Germany

The following letter was received last week from Alice Enderton, 13, who with her mother, Mrs. H. B. Enderton, and the rest of her family, has arrived in Germany to join Col. Enderton.

"Dear Mrs. Allen:
"Well, here we are in Germany! So far we have had a grand time. We sailed on the 17th of July on the U. S. A. T. Edmund B. Alexander, the second largest American transport. We docked at Bremerhaven, Germany, at 2:00 a. m., July 28th. The train to Munich was the best I've seen yet! Maybe it was the view—Germany is a beautiful country. We were met at Munich by our father, and we traveled by car to Regensburg, where we are going to live.

"I wish you could see the country here, it's lovely! All the farms are neat—huge yellow squares of wheat, and rows of brightest greens. And no billboards! When I come back I'm going to start a drive to get rid of billboards, for it's nice to go driving without 'Mairer, das gut Bier' staring you in the face. The American influence is being felt, however, for today we saw a huge sign praising 'Stop and Pop Rifle Range.'

"You don't have to worry about the poor, starving Germans. They don't look poor and starving, and what damage there is here isn't anything compared to the things they have done. Although the large cities are badly bombed, most of the villages are very beautiful and very intact.

"The German people are like something out of a story book! The blond, long-haired men wear leather shorts with decorated suspenders, and some of the women wear full red skirts, black laced bodices and white blouses. Most of the frauleins, however, wear print dresses, old perhaps, but not to be classified as rags. The shoe shortage is most noticeable. The men seems to be getting along all right, but many women wear wooden soled sandals, or nothing in the way of shoes.

"Servants here present a problem, but one very different from in the U. S. You have to keep them from working for you! We have three servants. Berta, our housekeeper, her 18-year-old daughter, Louisa, who does our laundry; and Bernard, the gardener and furnace man. They all work for next to nothing because we give them food. When fall comes we can engage a full time tutor for $19 a month.

"Our house is lovely. It's very modern and has a lovely view. Across the street is a beautiful park, with a grassy meadow and tall, graceful trees.

"Our address is: Care Col. H. B. Enderton, C-15149, Hdp. 1st Inf. Div., A. P. O. 1, care Postmaster, N. Y., N. Y.

"Best wishes to all.
"ALICE ENDERTON."

To Make Home In San Jose

Now making their home temporarily with the benedict's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Talia, Santa Clara-Los Gatos Road, the newly-wedded Mr. and Mrs. John Talia will leave Campbell Sept. 1 to make their home at 327 Baywood Ave., in San Jose.

Their marriage was an event of mid-summer, with the ceremony performed at the Trinity Episcopal Church with the Rev. Mark Rifenbark, officiating. The bride, the former Miss Betty Clevenger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester C. Clevenger, of San Jose, wore a long-sleeved white satin wedding gown with a deep ruffle of lace accenting the marquisette yoke. Her flowers were white baby gladioli encircling an orchid. Her sister, Miss Dorothy Clevenger, was her maid of honor, and was attired in a pink chiffon frock.

John Marlais was best man and Steve Ban and Chester C. Clevenger Jr., served as ushers.

Following the ceremony a large reception was held at the Elks Club in San Jose. The young couple's wedding tour included visits to Lake Arrowhead and Los Angeles.

The bride attended school in San Jose, and the bridegroom graduated from San Jose State College after attending Campbell Union High School. He has served 42 months in the Navy as a lieutenant with overseas duty in the Pacific.

THE H. S. SWENSONS ATTEND FAMILY REUNION

The H. S. Swensons of Maple St., left Monday for Los Angeles to attend a family reunion of Mr. Swenson's family at the home of his parents. They plan on being gone about a week. The occasion for the reunion is the fact that Mr. Swenson's younger brother, Raymond, whom Mr. Swenson has not seen for 36 years, is visiting from the East with his parents in Los Angeles. There will be five sons and two daughters, in addition to the aged parents, both of whom are well over 80 years of age, and enjoying good health. Another son could not leave his crops in the Midwest to attend. The remarkable thing of the whole affair is that of the eight children born to the Swensons, all are living and in good health, and there has not been a death in the Swenson family for nearly 60 years.

CACTUS GARDEN PARTY

A very happy dinner was recently served in the garden of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Dano with Everett Page the guest of honor on account of an approaching birthday. Reminiscences and family anecdotes were the order of the day. The guests were taken among the beds which display more than a hundred species of cacti of curious and unbelievable shapes and habits and with blossoms of marvelous colors and beauty.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Page, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Page, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Page, Miss Grace Page, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Cutting, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Cutting, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Cutting, Mr. Fred Blair, and Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Dano.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I wish to take an early opportunity to sincerely thank the hundreds of Campbell residents who signed the petition for incorporation.

It is most gratifying to feel that so many realize the importance of this movement and are willing to assist the Campbell Taxpayers' Association to bring it to a successful issue.

I have endeavored truthfully to point out the advantages of incorporation both in The Press and at our public meetings, for I believe incorporation is absolutely necessary if Campbell is to progress. Never before (and I doubt very much whether we shall have it again) has such a favorable opportunity presented itself. New industries which are the backbone of every community are anxious to locate in this area, and it is upon them that most of the expense of government would fall. New industries mean larger payrolls, and this means greater prosperity for tradesmen and residents.

Campbell up to this time has been supported primarily by seasonal employment, and those of our residents requiring employment the year round have been compelled to journey far, spending precious time in reaching their work, which could, and should be devoted to their homes. We can and must provide this year round employment for the hundreds of residents and the many others daily arriving. It can be done and will be done if we have your continued support.

I would also thank the energetic workers who have devoted so much of their precious time to circulating the petitions. Without their efforts the whole plan would have failed.

We have certainly met with a little opposition, but this is only natural, but I really believe most of the opponents have listened to incorrect statements by prejudiced individuals instead of attending our meetings and learning the truth. This is conclusively proven by the fact that some who signed the opposition petition are now our staunch supporters.

Let us all unite in one single effort to make Campbell a progressive city, so that you—the people—can govern your own affairs and reap the rewards of your efforts.

Further public meetings are being arranged to discuss incorporation, and every resident is cordially invited to attend.

Assuring you of my continued best efforts for the general welfare of Campbell and its residents,

Sincerely yours,
GEO. E. ARLIDGE, Secretary
Campbell Taxpayers' Assn.

Dear Editor:

Historically, I am opposed to incorporation for Campbell. After reading enthusiastic propaganda in the Press, I began to wonder why. May I send in a few thoughts for your incorporationists to shoot at?

A generation ago some of us opposed incorporation because we feared it would bring liquor into the town. Without incorporation, and with the good start old Mr. Campbell gave us, we had been able to keep the town free of intoxicants. Incorporation might endanger that freedom, and that was cause enough to oppose it.

Today we return to find liquor already here. Our men, for the mere hell of it, are toying with that which undermines character, weakens self-control, empties the pocket book with no substantial return, encourages crime in the abnormal and in the normal blinds to the real, enduring joys and happiness of life.

So then, with that issue removed, we must re-examine the question of incorporation on its own merits. Campbell has been and continues to be, a very fine home town without incorporation. Will the proposed change add advantages?

A well-accepted maxim among free peoples is: That government is best which governs least (other things being equal, understood). If the public affairs are adequately cared for at present, then even though incorporation might be an interesting experience and give good practice to embryo politicians, still the net result would be a poorer government.

One is reminded of the day in which the ancient Hebrews demanded a king like the kings of their neighbors. Do you recall that the Lord warned them they were getting into something they later would regret?

The worth of our present arrangement is in the premium it places on self-reliance, initiative and good neighborly interdependence. I remember when the influx of unassimilated fruit workers first astonished us. The W. C. T. U. set up a coffee club and recreation room, and many problems ceased to be problems. Then there was the time when the village needed a library. The Country Woman's Club raised the funds and established it. We needed better cooperation between school and home in the control and care of our children. The P. T. A. struggled into existence, and church groups sponsored Boy Scouts and Camp Fire Girls. The business men had problems, and Kiwanis went to bat. The orchardists were getting returns too meager to support their families. They organized the California Prune and Apricot Growers' cooperative and stood by through its horrible growing pains.

These were all spontaneous actions by concerned people to meet specific needs in a free, cooperative way.

Now some of us are seeking to set up a general organization to which we can delegate our cares. What is the specific need now? From what I note in the Press, especially in the recent "Guestimate", two categories comprise the bulk of anticipated expenditure; and where the treasure is, there is the heart of the matter. Of the guesstimated $24,000 a year, approximately $9,000, or more than a third, goes to making the thing run. And $10,000, or nearly half, goes to policing.

The health officer is to work without pay (!) as he usually does. Firefighting and lighting are adequately handled already. The streets are touched on lightly. Substantially we are to pay $9,000 overhead for $10,000 worth of police protection.

Has Campbell, then, become so lawless a community that orchards and homes of a two-mile radius are to be drawn into an incorporation to provide police protection beyond what the county provides? Judge Blaine's recent article in the Press telling how cases get to court and a "better way" is much in point here. Make no mistake, lawlessness in a community like ours stems from two things—liquor and lack of neighborliness. For these things, added police are not the answer.

Shall we, then, take on a burden of general organization upkeep to shift to it that normal burden of neighborly concern which we lose at our peril? Before you answer, ask yourself: What would not an assured $6,300 a year (the proposed salaries of three police officers) do if spent for recreation and refreshment supervised for community well being and an effective competitor to those who vend fire-water for profit?

Sincerely yours,
ALICE JOY.

Dear Editor:

Through the columns of The Campbell Press I would like to express my appreciation to the many citizens of the Campbell area who signed my nomination paper as an independent candidate for the office of Superintendent of Schools.

Their signing has enabled me to secure the necessary signatures to place my name on the ballot for the general election in November.

Since no other candidate sought an independent nomination, this is tantamount to election for the four-year term commencing January 1, 1947.

The most tangible way I can express my appreciation of their confidence in me is to assure them that I shall give the schools of Santa Clara County the best administration of which I am capable.

Cordially yours,
O. S. HUBBARD,
County Superintendent of Schools,
Santa Clara County.

Ties! From the gaudy wild type to the conservative—you'll find them all at Benson's. Some mighty gay clip-on bow numbers should appeal to you men. Bright Western cravats are the newest type out. These part hand-painted ties either in the conservative or the gay will give you that dressedup look. Get a new assortment of ties from Benson's and notice how you're noticed!

Oh, boy! Tricycles are back! You can now keep the youngsters happy while you're busy. Just get them a tricycle and notice their dispositions improve. You'll hardly recognize them. The Campbell Hardware has sturdy, well constructed, tricycles with rubber tires, rubber handles, and back stands. Have a look today.

While strolling through the Campbell Pharmacy this week I found something that should really make you housewives happy—combination ash trays with pipe, cigarette or cigar holders. The ash trays which are glass, fit into holders made of plastic Orna wood. On either side of the ash tray are attractive holders for the pipe or cigarettes. In this wood there are also tie holders and clothes brush holders.

Wool Sandy Kin suits for girls are now on hand at The Dresser Drawer. With long sleeves and pleated skirts, these suits are attractive in brown, green, light blue, and red. They are to be found in sizes 7-14. There are also in the same sizes and colors green, yellow and blue, bright jersey skirts with long pockets on which are embroidered gay dancing figures.

While thinking of lovely gifts you should think of The What Not. From the conservative to the elaborate, they have gifts to meet any taste or pocket book. Lovely Madeira hand embroidered guest towels and biscuit covers are among the gift items. These come in delicate pastels. Handkerchiefs are presents which are always appreciated. The What Not has some beauties.

You should take advantage of Clark's half-priced bargain table. The items on this table aren't reduced because their value is less, but because they are in the type of containers produced during the war. Many companies are changing their type of boxes and you may benefit by this change. Some of the items at half-price are: colognes, perfumes, bubble baths, bath mits, dusting powders, and cutex sets.

A variety of useful party items are on display at The House of Riches. Hostess sets which contain small napkins, matches and coasters are convenient when giving a party. These sets come in several party colors. Other miscellaneous items which are often missing when needed most are cocktail and luncheon napkins, paper guest towels, paper coasters, metallic matches, and lip stick pads. Although it's a bit early in the season, you may also find fireside watches at The House of Riches.

If you've been searching for a good looking gray skirt you can now find them at Rachel's. With a gored back and straight front with stitched closing flat these skirts are unusually smart looking. Well made gray slacks are also available. These slacks are minus the front pleats which will please some of you. Both skirts and slacks are made of wool and have zippers.

RETURNS FROM VACATION

Campbell Court Notes

By Judge Blaine

"The Scandal of Our Traffic Courts" is an article in Reader's Digest for last May. It is a good example of exaggeration by unfair selection. For instance we read, "One typical courtroom is in a grimy basement that houses the city jail." With similar hocus-pocus an article on stock farms might say: "One typical calf was born with two heads."

The following court story should not be called typical. It is merely true, one of many unusual stories that might be told in connection with Campbell Justice Court.

A map of about 35 was arrested in town here for drunk driving. The news went round. Not a single person who knew him had a good word. A typical comment was: "That man has no will power. He's got a string of jelly where his backbone should be. He knows he can't drink in moderation, but he'll take a drink every time a friend offers one."

And so on and so on. One man bet a newspaper reporter that the defendant wouldn't even pay a first installment on his fine.

But there was an exception, the defendant's spunky wife. With flashing eyes she said, "Judge, if you'll help get my husband away from those so-called friends I'm sure he'll reform. And believe me, when he's sober he's one of the best husbands in this town, kind, considerate, everything reasonable a wife could ask."

He was fined on installments and put on probation for a year, with terms that included a new set of friends. He got a fair job and soon had a better. His wife brought his installments and smiled more confidently each time. With the last installment she said, "He hates the stuff. It makes him mad if any one even mentions it."

Soon after the fine was paid in full the couple moved to a small town near San Francisco. The two got work in the same factory. That year they sent the judge his first Christmas card. And they have sent a nice, prosperous-looking card, printed with their names, each year since. The cards help to keep this story up to date.

Mrs. Paul Becker Writes From Guatemala

The following letter is from Mrs. Paul Becker, who, with her husband, and their dog, Alice, have completed by car a trip to Guatemala, where they will make their home.

Dear Friends:

At last comes this story of ours, and I'm sorry that I can't be more complete, but so many people and so many circumstances were a part of our trip that to tell in detail would take years.

To begin with, we left L. A. on June 28 and drove through the desert all night. There were many doing the same thing and we all hit Phoenix about the same time. The next night to El Paso, the next to Del Rio and from there it was a jaunt to Laredo. When Alice would get too hot we just headed for the nearest irrigation ditch and let her swim, it worked out very well.

On July 2 we were up early to "sweat out" the bridge at Laredo. Here one declares all foreign made articles to the U. S. customs and proceeds to the Mexican officials. My Spanish of 7th grade vintage proved some help, at least the vendors that swarmed upon our car as we waited our turn on the bridge was able to understand that I didn't want to be bothered.

The bridge, here you wait and wait and groan inwardly as you see the people ahead of you pull out all their luggage and, you visualize the quantity of household equipment in your car. We proved a sticker as we were not "tourist" but "en transita", and what to do with us was a problem. Probably no other person had ever tried to drive through Mexico to Guatemala (we've met at least a dozen). We were finally directed to another custom house where all trucks are cleared.

I waited in the car, and in an hour Paul came out with an official to get the numbers of the tires. He hurriedly wrote the numbers, but when it came to the one under the turtle back and a little work was involved he muttered "Mucho Calor" and scurried back to the building with Paul after him. Another hour elapsed and Paul was back with two others to look for the number on the motor. Paul hauled up the hood, looked, but the official again muttered "Mucho calor" and off they went. In due time Paul returned with a fat, white haired, Italian, and we all shook hands and I tried to look very grateful, and Paul said that he had helped us a lot. I thought he was an official, but he turned out to be in the same fix as we, and he and Paul had teamed up to get some action.

It seems we had to bond our cars to prove that we would pay duty if we sold them in Mexico. Joseph (as we called him) spoke the language, and Paul was eager, so they had greased palms to the right and to the left (our first experience with "mordides", which means the "bite"—before we were to be out of the country we felt we had not been merely bitten but thoroughly chewed!) At this point it was two in the afternoon, breakfast was a memory and we had not yet been inspected! Joseph said not to go back to the bridge, but to go on to another inspection station where it would be less crowded. He would lead the way—he was on his way to Vera Cruz to ship his car to Spain. We followed him down the road and he stopped many times to warn us not to drive over 40 and the road surface was death on tires and also to have us check our tires frequently.

We pulled up to the station, the official checked our bond against the numbers on the tires and asked Joseph what we had in the back. Joseph shrugged his shoulders, muttered "a little personal baggage", handed out pictures of Remington Rand typewriters and we were on our way! (1200 pounds of personal luggage). Bless Joseph. We breathed a sigh of relief, cared not what happened, and followed Joseph on our way to Monterrey. We had quite a grade to drive and the car soon boiled, so we had to stop and watch Joseph go on his way. Soon we heard "beep, beep", and here came Joseph to see why we had stopped! We arrived in Monterrey around dusk and we finally had to tell Joseph goodbye, and believe me we felt as though we were losing a dear friend.

In Monterrey we had our first taste of traffic—they drive with lights dimmed, and toot at every intersection, and use no arm signals. The surprising fact is that there are comparatively few dented fenders! Also, many streets are one way and it causes quite a bit of observation to determine what the next block will bring.

On our way to Victoria the next day we met two boys, Bob and Dave, who were photographing Mexico. The former came from my home town. For the rest of the trip we met these two frequently and compared notes. The last I saw of them was when I boarded the train at Vera Cruz.

From Victoria we drove through banana plantations, sugar cane and pineapple orchards. The tropical country we were in was truly beautiful and beyond my description. All over the country we could see thatched roof huts, oxen, and natives carrying machetes. The incongruous was to see a thatched hut with a V-8 or a John Deere farmall! In many of the huts all along the way one could see a Singer sewing treadle machine. The rivers, with the trees growing down to the very edge, were beautiful, and each river was a distinctive color—red, blue or green. At one point we saw a red river flowing into a blue.

In Tamazunchale (Tomas un chale) we went to the D. Z. courts which were set in a tropical garden and the rooms were beautiful. Mr. Zelinsky, a retired mining engineer, was our host and when Paul asked to register he asked us if we registered in our own home! Of course that didn't put our minds at ease as to the number of pesos it would cost. Another car drove in and the people complained of the heat—Mr. Zelinsky said that they should have gone to Iceland—what did they expect in the tropics. It really wasn't too hot, at least not as unbearable as I had expected. We drove down to see two rivers bumping into each other, not forming a Y as usual, but bumping and swirling until the direction was set.

Mr. Zelinsky served dinner in a thatched hut, cool and lovely. No one eats tomatoes in Mexico, so I left mine on the plate. Mr. Zelinsky gave me a lecture about eating vegetables in the tropics, took the plate away, then turned back, speared a tomato and fed it to me. He fed me three pieces in a row until I made motions of being full. "Never mind, you are not too full until you run over", said he. He cited me as an example of good behavior and promised me more good food.

The next morning we were anxious to leave soon after breakfast, as the road ahead went straight up to 9,000 feet, and very often one ran into fog. As it turned out there was no fog, and our drive was lovely. The car only boiled once and we nearly fell out of the car looking down, down at the river below, or looking down on mountains that looked down on mountains. All the mountains are cultivated and they look terraced. Such lush vegetation is beyond words. At the highest point of the Pan American highway we took a picture and then glided into Mexico City, which is only 7,000 feet. Here it was raining and we had quite a time finding a place to stay, but we conquered the one way streets and found a place right in the center of things. It turned out to be the former home of Perfirio Diaz, one of the dictators of Mexico, but one who had done a lot. Such gilt furniture and carved ceilings you never saw. We had a regular suite that at one time had been a guest cottage.

We headed for Sanborns, the popular eating place for Americans, as you can drink the water and eat the food, and the coffee is good. (Have you ever tasted essence of coffee—it's too thick to swim and too thin to plow). The streets of the city were confusing to me. I was tired and the horns, crowds of people, and many beggars too much. I had a good bunch of nightmares.

WIRE AHEAD

for MODERN LIVING

Your home will be ready to "take delivery" and connect the many mechanical servants you plan to buy if that home has "Certified Adequate Wiring." When you see the "Adequate Wiring" symbol on a home being built or remodeled, it means plenty of circuits of large enough wire, plenty of outlets and switches for a lifetime of modern electrical service.

Too often, house wiring is designed for lighting alone so that lights blink when the refrigerator motor comes on or the washing machine or iron is being used. That means voltage has dropped and the lights and appliances on that circuit must work harder and longer.

Prepare your home for the future, wire ahead. Insist on Certified Adequate Wiring under the floorboards and inside the walls.

THE ARMY HAS A GOOD JOB FOR YOU!

NON-COMMISSIONED GRADES NOW OFFERED TO FORMER ARMY OCCUPATIONAL SPECIALISTS

Good jobs in non-commissioned grades are being offered now by the Regular Army to qualified former servicemen!

Veterans discharged on or after May 12, 1945, who enlist or reenlist for 3 years may be enlisted in the non-commissioned grade for which qualified, provided this grade is not higher than that held at time of discharge, and provided that at least 6 months of former service was in one of 400 designated military occupational specialties in which enlistment is now desired.

Important, interesting jobs are open in hundreds of skills and trades in the Army, with splendid training and educational advantages! These are in addition to free food, housing, clothing, medical and dental care, low-cost insurance.

There's adventure, travel, education, a secure and profitable future in this vital, realistic profession. Get full details at your nearest Army Recruiting Station.

★ Highlights of Regular Army Enlistments

1. Enlistments for 1½, 2 or 3 years. (1-year enlistments permitted for men now in the Army with 6 or more months of service.)
2. Enlistment age from 18 to 34 years inclusive (17 with parents' consent) except for men now in the Army, who may reenlist at any age, and former service men depending on length of service.
3. A reenlistment bonus of $50 for each year of active service since such bonus was last paid, or since last entry into service, provided reenlistment is within 3 months after last honorable discharge.
4. A furlough for men who reenlist within 20 days. Full details of other furlough privileges can be obtained from Recruiting Officers.
5. Mustering-out pay (based upon length of service) to all men who are discharged to reenlist.
6. Option to retire at half pay for the rest of your life after 20 years' service—increasing to three-quarters pay after 30 years' service. All previous active federal military service counts toward retirement.
7. GI Bill of Rights benefits assured for men who enlist on or before October 5, 1946.
8. Choice of branch of service and overseas theater (of those still open) on 3-year enlistments.

Campbell Man
Brings Bride Here

Friends of Jack H. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard J. Smith, Winchester Road, will be interested to learn of his recent marriage in Bristol, Pa. He and his bride are now visiting at the home of his parents following his discharge from the Navy in which he served aboard the "South Dakota".

The new Mrs. Smith is the former Miss Elizabeth E. Lynch, daughter of Mrs. William Lynch of Bristol, Pa., and the ceremony was an afternoon one performed at the Bristol Presbyterian church.

Five young women attended the bride, with a similar number of members of the U. S. Navy, all stationed aboard the "South Dakota", serving the groom. The Rev. Edward G. Yeomans, pastor of the Presbyterian church, performed the double ring ceremony.

Presiding at the organ console was Mrs. Marburg D. Weagley, with Mrs. Charles I. Brown singing "Because", "I Love You Truly" and "O Promise Me".

Escorted to the altar by her uncle, Mr. William Dyer, the bride was attractively gowned in white. The bodice of her costume was of lace, and the skirt, entrain, of tulle. The gown had an illusion neck-line and long sleeves. Her finger-tip veil was held in place by an orange blossom head-dress. She wore taffeta slippers, and carried white roses.

The maid of honor, Miss Marjorie Faulgner, wore a net gown of aqua tone, it having an illusion neckline, and short puffed sleeves. The quartet of bridesmaids was inclusive of: Miss Ann Pearson, Miss Arlene Spencer, West Circle; Miss June Comly and Miss Leona Comly. The bridesmaids were attired in pink net gowns, the full cut skirts having tiny ribbon bows of aqua. The short sleeves were puffed, and necklines were round. The five attendants wore floral head-pieces and shoulder veils to match their respective gowns, and silver slippers. The maid of honor carried yellow roses, and the bridesmaids, pink roses.

Serving as best man was Mr. Vernon Haring; and ushers were Messrs. Hilton Jones, William Jones, Walter Fahey and James Faytek.

The selection of Mrs. Lynch, mother of the bride, for the ceremony, was a print dress of Alice blue shade, with hat and accessories, and a corsage of white carnations.

One hundred guests were in attendance at the reception at the F. P. A. hall following the wedding. Leaving for Atlantic City, N. J., for the weekend, Mrs. Smith wore a two-piece white eyelet dress, white straw hat and white accessories, and a corsage of red roses.

The bride, a graduate of Bristol High school, and of Rider College, Trenton, N. J., has been employed in the office of the principal at Bristol High school.

His college studies interrupted by the war, the benedict may enter the University of California at Berkeley this fall.

CHURCH HAS SONG FEST

The local Church of Christ was host Sunday afternoon to the sister churches in Redwood City and San Jose for a monthly song fest from 2:30 to 4:00 in the afternoon.

Bude H. Little, former minister of the church here who recently resigned, filled the pulpit of the Church of Christ in Salinas two weeks ago.
